a stone from a foundation and it is weakened; a picket from a fence gives it an ill appearance, the vacancy destroys its symmetry, and the void is at once apparent. A hole the size of a pin's head in a kitchen utensil detracts from its usefulness, and a spoke from the wheel of a vehicle at once causes comment. It is the same with the mouth of a human being. A absent tooth gives the mouth the appearance of an aching void." The symmetry is forever gone, the features are distorted, and already the process of decay has begun. In time other teeth "go by the board," and then succeeds a row of blackened and disfigured stumps. Crown and bridge work is a specialty in dental science, and of which Dr. H. B. Findley is a master. By these processes the mouth is made whole, decay of teeth arrested and the features restored to their original appearance.

HOPEFUL SIGNS.

Reports That the Fraser is Slowly Subsiding.

NO HIGH TIDES FOR SEVERAL DAYS

Will Help to Lessen the Damage—The Situation Around New Westminster—Approximate Estimate of Destruction to Property Throughout the Fraser Valley.

New Westminster, June 7.—No change in the situation is reported from up the river. The water has dropped several inches, and the families who were requiring steamboat assistance to remove their cattle have all been attended to. The steamer Gladys, with Hon. Colonel Baker, returned to port last night, and the steamer Blonde this morning.

High tide this morning brought the water an inch above yesterday's record, raising the freshet mark of 1894 to five inches above the top notch of 1882. The tides will be smaller for several days, and before they begin to grow again it is expected that a considerable fall will have occurred along the river. The water rushed in through London's dyke at Lulu Island last evening and covered the farms of Messrs. Robinson, Trew, Gilmour, J. McDonnel and James Falconer to a depth of three feet. A great many swine and cattle were in danger of drowning and good assistance in saving them was lent by the crew of the steamer Edgar. Between seven and eight o'clock the dyke gave way, heavy down and the farms of C. Albertson and John Kirkland were flooded. The crops will be seriously damaged. Men labored all night and to-day repairing breaks, and it was hoped work would be sufficiently advanced this evening to keep back the high tide to-night. The damage to Alexander Ewen's ranch on Lulu Island by the break of McGillivray's dyke is between $5,000 and $10,000, some valuable improvements being destroyed. The water has covered the low lying farms at Keatsy.

The relief committee appointed by the board of trade met at nine o'clock this morning, all the members being present. After discussion on the situation the following resolution was carried: "That the secretary be requested to write the various boards of trade and municipal councils in the province inviting them to send a representative or representatives to meet this committee at the board of trade rooms here on Tuesday, the 24th, at 7 p.m., and that the president arrange with the premier for a member of the government to be present on that occasion to consider what steps should be taken in view of the present disastrous floods in the Fraser river valley; and it is earnestly requested that as many representatives as can possibly attend should do so, as this is a matter of pressing and provincial importance."

The losses by the flood have been roughly estimated as follows:

At Brownsville the loss to the milk ranches is about one thousand dollars. In Langley municipality thirty farmers lost all their crops, but many farms escaped the floods. There were swine, warehouses, household furniture, bridges, fences lost; bridges, two thousand dollars; crops, fifteen thousand dollars; household furniture, etc., fifteen thousand dollars; total, thirty-two thousand dollars. Among the principal losers at Langley were Mrs. Towle, James Taylor, James Houston, of old Hudson Bay days; Kennedy Morrison, an old time Hudson Bay official; Otto Wilkie, A. Cameron, Towner, of the old Rousseau farm, and Moses Graft.

In Matsqui there were six hundred acres of land under crop. The loss in crops, hogs, etc., is estimated at ten thousand dollars; fences, fruit trees, etc., six thousand dollars; bridges, etc., eighteen hundred dollars; total, sixteen thousand eight hundred dollars. The principal losers are Messrs. Page, Nicholson, Sims, Merchon and Purvis.

In Sumas two thousand five hundred acres of crop were lost, valued at twenty thousand dollars; furniture, barns, fences, etc., another twenty thousand; total, forty thousand dollars. Among the principal losers are Dave Miller, storekeeper, an old resident; Chester Chetsey, George Chetsey, Donald McGillivray, William Chetsey, Hiram Barker, Mrs. Campbell, Ackerman and J. Smith.

In Chilliwack and islands the crops are an entire loss. There are about sixty-five thousand acres of farm land, and half was under crops of fruit. The minimum loss is estimated at three hundred thousand dollars to crops and ten thousand chattels, bridges, etc.; total, three hundred and ten thousand dollars. Among the heavy losers are C. Evans, W. Kickbush, — Dunnville, M. Sweetman, A. C. Wells, Jonathan Reece, J. McCutcheon, Isaac Kipp, George Bumford, Charles Brown, C. Rider, Donald and Milton Gillanders, J. H. Bent, Reuben Kowle, William Bell, John Bell, William Priest, Henry Kipp, W. H. Dewolf, Messrs. Henderson, T. Kitchen, M. P. P., D. Welder and David Nelles, on the north side of the river.

Richmond Municipality—The damage to the North Arm bridge is two thousand dollars. One hundred acres of Delta land are flooded at a loss of about seven thousand dollars. Mr. Woodward is the principal loser.

Coquitlam—Loss by crops, fences, etc., eight thousand dollars. The principal losers are Messrs. Keefer, McLean, Stewart and the present owner of the old Stoltzfus farm.

Maple Ridge—The total loss is estimated at thirty thousand dollars. The principal sufferers are Messrs. Harris, Cook and Bonson (Westminster), the Westminster and Vancouver syndicate; Sam Robinson, the old Hudson Bay employe; Peter Baker, John Creighton and Spillbury.

Mission—Loss of chattels, houses and crops is estimated at fifty thousand dollars. The principal losers are Messrs. Fraser, McConnell, Cox, Bruce, Fred Hughes, James Munro and John Morton.

Dewdney—Crops, cattle, hogs, furniture, etc., have been destroyed to the value of thirty-five thousand dollars. Among the losers are Messrs. Wells, Grant, McKenney, Clark, Johnson, H. P. Bales, R. Gardiner, John Vasey and Captain Thompson.

Nicomen—Losses on fences and buildings, cattle, etc., fifty thousand dollars. The principal sufferers are James Gerouche, Samuel McDonald, Peter Finch, Joseph Braxil and La Prie.

Along twelve miles between Nicomen and the Yale district there are two hundred settlers. Several hop farms are inundated. If the weather keeps cool the hops will not be spoiled. The loss, all told, is eight thousand dollars. The larger portion is borne by Sir Arthur Stepney, Messrs. Gorell, Hammersley, Walker, Size and Lane.

In the Yale district, including Ruby creek, Katz Landing and Hope, the loss is roughly estimated at eight thousand dollars.

All the damage was done in one hundred miles between Ladner's and Yale, and then a comparatively small portion was affected by the floods. The high lands are rich, but the low lands are richer, and the settlers preferred running the risk of loss in the low lands, where they could get so much more out of an acre of land. Immense stretches of high lands of great richness were untouched by the water, among them Clover valley, Langley prairie, Hall's prairie, Alder Grove, and on these lands the crops look unusually promising. The year after the floods of 1882 the low lands produced extraordinary crops, owing to the peculiar sediment left on the ground by the Fraser. It will be the same in 1894. There is lots of room for settlement on the high lands of the Fraser.

The losses mentioned amount to nearly half a million, and the numerous isolated sections of small extent are not chronicled, together with the damage on the Kettle, White, Thompson and Columbia rivers, would bring it up to half a million. Earl Aberdeen's ranch has been completely demoralized. On Kettle river not one bridge was left all the way along. At Golden a number of ranches were buried. From Enderby to the main line the whole track was washed away, and the branch line will not be operated for some time. Mission creek flooded the whole valley, and the Spallumcheen river and Similkameen river came through the Indian village and buried it seventy feet. The estimated loss is a conservative one.

James Wilson, superintendent of Canadian Pacific telegraphs, returned on Wednesday from an eight days' trip amongst the washouts. He reports that it is the worst that he has ever experienced, as owing to the numerous slides and the rapid rise of the waters, the wires were carried down as fast as they were put up. They have now got the wires up as far as Ashcroft, and if there is no trouble in the Rockies, a wire will soon be up to Winnipeg. At Maria Island they had to divert the line from the railway track and carry it around by a different route, building about a mile of extra line. On Monday Mr. Wilson says it was 105 degrees in the shade in the interior, and the heat for some weeks past has been terrible. On Saturday a cloudburst occurred near Ashcroft, which caused an enormous slide and effectually stopped all traffic. The Penny's bridge was carried away and a huge mass of earth was carried into the river. Mr. Wilson describes the falling of some huge cottonwood trees in that neighborhood as like the roar of artillery. The ground has become so saturated that it does not now require much force to bring them down.

Advices received from the Rockies state that the Bow River is higher than ever before, and as the track crosses it at several places trouble is feared. The Kicking Horse is now a raging torrent.

Mr. Hamersley reports Agassiz district very wet. No stock has been lost and there is but little actual suffering although the grain crops and potatoes have probably been ruined. Of these latter a great many were planted this year, probably 200 or 300 acres and the loss entailed will be considerable. The fencing has also suffered universally. When questioned about hop-yards Mr. Hamersley said that is yet there was little if any damage apparent, and that if the water kept on subsiding they would be unaffected. The plants had grown about a foot since the water first came up on them.

Manager Christie of the C. P. R. telegraph office received the following water report this morning: Kamloops, one and one-half inches rise; Ashcroft, three inches rise; Quesnelle, unobtainable; Gladwin, one foot rise; North Bend, three inches rise; Yale, three inches rise; Katz Landing, unchanged; Mission, fell two and a quarter inches; New Westminster, fell three inches.

The British Columbia Sugar Refining Company have given 20 barrels (6000 pounds) of sugar to the relief of the sufferers by the flood.

John Wilson & Co. received a telegram to-day from Forrest Canning Co., Halifax, N. S., instructing them to distribute 50 cases Jersey Condensed milk among the sufferers from the floods at their expense.

Portland, Ore., June 8.—Thirty-three feet on the government gauge now marks the flood limit there. The river has been stationary since midnight on Wednesday. It is expected to remain stationary to-morrow, and will probably fall a little to-morrow night. During the past 48 hours the atmospheric conditions of the upper Columbia and Snake rivers have been favorable to a slight decrease in the flood. The heaviest downpour was in the morning readings at Riparia as 21 feet 8 inches, showing a fall of three feet in the Snake at that point since 9 a.m. Tuesday. The Columbia is stationary at Umatilla, and has been so since 3 p. m. to-day.

Business was brisker to-day than it has been for ten days. Nearly all the big business houses have at last succeeded in transferring their stocks to places beyond all danger of flood. They have

State Troops Camp Between Strikers and Deputies—Disarmament Will Probably Begin To-Morrow—A Captain of Deputies Cuts the Wires to Prevent Transmission of Orders.

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 8.—All day rumors of conflicts between the deputies and strikers have been current, but in no instance have they been confirmed. The first detachment of militia arrived at Beaver park, the scene of the trouble, this morning. The state troops immediately marched through the lines of the deputies to a point between the contending forces, from which place they will prevent either the deputies or strikers from making an advance. The work of disarmament has not yet begun, nor will the work be started until more state troops have arrived on the ground, which will probably be to-morrow. Captain Locke, with ten thousand deputies, has advanced beyond Gillett and has cut down all telegraphic communication so as not to receive restraining orders from Adjutant-General Tarsney.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—The mine workers' strike is virtually ended so far as this section is concerned, and the miners will probably resume work on Monday, as they have no grievance and only quit work in order to help the movement along.

DOLE'S SIGNIFICANT WORDS.

The Hawaiian President Insists Annexation Must not be Forgotten.

Honolulu, May 31.—(By the steamer Mariposa to San Francisco, June 7.)—The constitutional convention met on the 30th of May. The ceremonies were brief and consisted mainly of an address outlining the work of the convention by President Dole. The British minister refused to attend the opening ceremonies, though invited. An adjournment was taken in order that decoration day might be celebrated. All the government troops turned out, and accompanied by Admiral Walker, his staff and a large detachment of troops from the Philadelphia marched to the cemetery.

President Dole, in his address before the convention, outlined very fully the work it had to do and stated clearly the reasons which had impelled a change of plans by the President and advisory council from annexation to the United States to the creation of an independent republic. He gave utterance also to this significant expression:

"Although the establishment of a fundamental law which shall as far as possible provide for a safe and permanent administration of affairs upon the principles of a republican form of government will be the paramount object of your deliberations, the original purpose of the provisional government, to negotiate a treaty of political union with the great and friendly nation that lies nearest to us, must, I respectfully suggest, be as fully recognized by you as the vital policy of the new republic, as it has been of the provisional government."

CONGRESS AND SENATE.

Linton, of Michigan, Makes an Attack on the Roman Catholics.

Washington, D.C., June 7.—The house had an Indian appropriation bill under discussion to-day. The main feature of the debate was an attack against the Roman Catholic church by Linton of Michigan, in which he argued against contract Indian schools, saying that under this system the largest share of the appropriations for the education of Indians went to Roman Catholic Indian schools.

A resolution was adopted before adjourning calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to the enforcement of the immigration and contract law, and another authorizing the committee on immigration to visit Ellis Island.

Subpoenas directed to members of the sugar trust have been issued by the senate committee of investigation. Among those summoned are the two Havemeyers, Read, Searles and Matthiesen.

BRIEF LOCALS.

Gleanings of City and Provincial News in Condensed Form.

—A private telegram was received this afternoon stating that Bishop Sillitoe, of Westminster, had taken another relapse and that he was very low.

—Wallace West and Dell Roper gave James Ford a thrashing at noon to-day. The quarrel arose during a game. A summons has been issued against West and Roper.

—It is probable that the induction of the Rev. W. T. Clay, the new pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, will not take place on Tuesday evening as announced. The floods will prevent that gentleman's arrival. He has been telegraphed to come by way of San Francisco, but it is not probable he will arrive here in time.

—Jno. Lynch is a free man, having escaped from the chain-gang at one o'clock this afternoon. The chain-gang was working in the field surrounding the provincial jail. Lynch was close to the fence, and when the jailer turned his back Lynch got over the fence and hid from view in the bush before a gun could be levelled at him. He had shaken off his irons without striking a blow; the irons were not tight enough, and Lynch was fortunate enough to have a very small instep. A posse is out looking for him. Lynch was serving two months for the theft of a shawl.

A PARADOX.

Counterfeit American Half Dollars Made of Pure Silver.

San Francisco, June 7.—Secret Service Agent Harris is studying out a problem in counterfeiting that is without parallel in his experience.

He has reason to believe that there is a gang either in this city or in the interior engaged in making fifty-cent pieces out of pure coin silver, each piece being a trifle lighter than the genuine coin.

The discovery was made over a week ago. Three of the counterfeit coins were turned in to the cashier of the Sutter street railroad by one of the conductors in one day. The coins looked so fresh and new that the cashier was disposed to examine them, and on close examination he thought they seemed a trifle light, and to make sure he notified Harris. The Detective examined the coins and pronounced them counterfeits. They were sent to the chief of the service, from whom Mr. Harris yesterday received the following letter:

June 2, 1894.

N. R. Harris, Special Operative Secret Service Division.

Sir—I note what you state in your report of the 18th instant regarding the counterfeit 50-cent coin enclosed therewith. You will inform the business people and community at large—through the medium of the press—that to make, have in possession or use any counterfeit coin made of silver is as much in violation of law as in the case of a coin made of base metal, and that the government will be most vigorous in its prosecution of persons making or handling such counterfeits owing to their dangerous character. Respectfully yours,

W. P. HAZEN, Chief.

"The profit of this peculiar kind of counterfeiting," said Agent Harris, "is not so large as when base metal is used. The silver in a genuine half-dollar is worth about 22 cents. It weighs 900 grains fine, whereas the counterfeit weighs about 825 grains. The difference in weight is accounted for by the fact that very heavy, powerful machinery, the counterfeiters cannot possibly have, is required to roll and press the silver so as to make it of the standard thickness. On each counterfeit the profit is from 25 to 28 cents."

Agent Harris has gone to work on the case, although the clews are scant and the chances of finding the counterfeiters are correspondingly small.

THE SUGAR TRUST.

Continuation of the Investigation Into the Tariff Tampering.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—Before the senate committee investigating the alleged operations of the sugar trust for its efforts to influence tariff legislation, Walter Gaston, wire manufacturer, of Wilkesbarre, was examined to-day. He stated that he came to Washington in March in the interest of the tariff on wire and was stopping at the Arlington hotel, and was assigned room 35 on the sixth day of the month. Being much wearied, he retired early. About ten o'clock he was aroused by talking in the next room, participated in by several persons. Some were discussing the sugar schedule and some of the participants in the discussion were exceedingly anxious that the duty on refined sugar should be provided for. He said also that he heard the names of senators mentioned in the conversation.

Gaston did not refuse to answer any questions, but to many he replied that he did not know. He supposed there were senators in conversation with Mr. Terrell by the knowledge they displayed of what had taken place in the sub-committee on finance that day. He said he never told any one he recognized the voices of senators in the room occupied by Terrell. He did not know the name of the congressman whom he gave the story to and who in turn told it to Mr. Shriver. He was given until to-morrow to consider whether he would disclose the congressman's name.

WITHERING WORDS.

Col. Breckinridge Hurls Hot Defiance at His Foes.

Lexington, Ky., June 6.—The hottest political meeting of the congressional campaign was held at Midway, Woodford county, to-day. Woodford is the most evenly divided county in the district. Col. Breckinridge in the opera house there to-day spoke to an audience of five hundred of his admirers.

There came near being a free fight when the colonel had finished, and about sixty women bearing Owens badges came marching into the opera house. This made Breckinridge's followers so angry that nearly all of them got up and left the room, but their places were quickly filled by Owens and Settle men. Evan Settle was introduced by Colonel Breckinridge. The Breckinridge men declare the action of the Owens men in sending [illegible] is unbearable, and serious trouble may yet be the result of this move.

Breckinridge was bitter in his denunciation of Owens. He also scored Preacher McGarvey in the most thorough manner. Of the Rev. J. R. Deering, the ex-rebel soldier, who spoke against Breckinridge at Versailles yesterday, he said:

"A seat in congress for the balance of my life would not compensate for the pain I have suffered as the result of the words used by Deering, my old army comrade and friend of forty years' standing. It may be a part of the cross that I have to bear, but I would surely, were places exchanged, not do that to John Deering which he saw fit to do to me."

The speech as a whole was made up of the most withering personal assaults upon his enemies that Breckinridge has yet made. He will speak at Frankfort on Monday and will then return to Washington. Evan Settle followed him in an aide speech, but nobody save the women, the Owens men and a few Settle men remained to hear him.

Chinese Laundrymen Burned.

Portlan, Or., June 6.—The Troy laundry was burned to the ground this morning and four Chinamen were burned to death and five seriously injured. J. B. Henderson, one of the proprietors, was very badly burned about the head, face and body and is not expected to recover from his injuries. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove in the ironing room where Henderson and 25 Chinamen were at work. Immediately after the explosion fire started in the [illegible] and the Chinamen saved their lives by jumping ing, but others remained and tried to save some stores and while doing so were advised to escape by policemen and bystanders. Instead, they remained in the building and were overcome by smoke and perished. Three of the Chinamen who escaped were badly burned and were taken to the hospital. They will recover. The other two were somewhat injured. Mr. Henderson is not expected to live. The loss to the building and stock is about $5,000.

WOLFISH CHILDREN.

Horrible Brawl Between Sons Over their Father's Corpse.

New York, June 7.—Worth $35,000, John Lane, who had been a private in the Fourth United States artillery during the war, died at two o'clock on Saturday morning at his home on Forty-fifth street. The Rev. Father Gibney of St. Michael's church had just administered extreme unction. Grouped about the bedside of the dying man were his two sons, Michael, aged twenty-one, and Daniel, aged twenty-eight, his daughter and her fifteen-year-old son and several neighbors. The solemn rite had scarcely been finished before Daniel began to dispute over an inheritance with his brother. The old man was in the last agonies, but made a feeble gesture for Daniel to stop.

The younger man continued in spite until Daniel made an effort to lead him from the bedroom. Daniel then knocked Michael down. Then there were struggles, and finally Michael subdued his brother. A neighbor hurried for a policeman, and as Daniel was hurried from the bedchamber to the jail the old man died.

In the Jefferson market police court Daniel was fined $10.

KANSAS WHEAT FAILS.

A Disheartening Report from the Western Grain Districts.

Topeka, Kan., June 7.—Reports from the western parts of Kansas are very discouraging and show that the wheat crop in that section is a total failure. There was very little wheat raised west of the centre of the state, and unless the conditions immediately change there will be no corn raised. In many counties there has not been any rain for more than a year, with the exception of light showers. The people of that section are not well prepared to withstand another crop failure. Hundreds of farmers are without means to buy provisions to tide them over another year, and the prospects of another failure will force many to leave the country.

State Senator Wilcockson of Logan county said to-day that the people of that region would have to leave and abandon the prairies for stock ranches if the crops failed again this year. The people have held on with the hope that the climatic conditions would change, but they will be forced to leave before another cold winter comes.

Suing for His Skin.

San Francisco, June 6.—Michael McGowan, a baker who came here from Butte, Mont., and was subsequently treated in the city hospital for an ulcerated ankle, has begun suit against the city for $25,000 damages. He sues to recover for lost skin. He claims that the hospital surgeons placed him under a powerful anaesthetic, and, without his knowledge or consent, cut from his thighs seven strips of skin, one and a half inches wide and from four to eight inches long. McGowan's valued epidermis was used in a skin-grafting upon the faces of a Frenchman and a French woman, who had been badly burned in a fire. McGowan claims to have suffered great mental and physical anxiety, and in his complaint recites the fact that the Frenchman now claims to be "half French and half Irish," and has taunted him on account of his misfortune.

Mounted Chinese Banditti.

London, June 6.—A dispatch to the Times from Pekin says that the revolution in the province of Manlarin is greatly extending. Mounted banditti, armed with repeating rifles, defeated the imperial troops at every engagement and occupied several important positions, including Sansing arsenal, in which 100,000 rifles were stored. The situation is so alarming that Viceroy Li Hung Chang is gathering a large force to suppress the rebellion.

Central American War.

New York, June 6.—The Herald's La Libertad dispatch says that Ezeta's flight from the country is not known to his forces, which are now massed near San Salvador. La Libertad is practically in control of American sailors, who were landed from the U. S. S. Bennington to protect the American consulate and American interests from the city. Ezeta arrived here yesterday and with ten companions, immediately went on board the steamer Valedia, and sailed for Panama.

MAXIM AND DOWE.

The Gunmaker Pooh-poohs the Manheim Tailor's Coat.

London, June 7.—Herr Dowe, inventor of the so-called bullet proof coat, has written a letter to the Times offering to forfeit the purchase money to any one who buys his coat if it contains either iron or steel. He declared that his invention is for sale at a price much under the £200,000 mentioned in the newspapers. Mr. Maxim, whose invention of a bullet proof material was tested a few days ago, has written to the proprietors stating that his first letter declaring that he could in six hours invent a bullet-proof material superior to Herr Dowe's was made a joke. He still maintains, however, that he has produced a lighter shield, which is just as effective as Dowe's. Mr. Maxim declares the whole subject of bullet-proof clothing a farce. His prepared steel, he says, is the best substance in the world for stopping bullets. He adds that he has sufficient evidence to convince him that Dowe's invention contains a hard plate.

Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers is a popular preparation in one bottle, and colors evenly a brown or black. Any person can easily apply it at home.

New Electric Car System.

Washington, June 6.—Senator Stewart has become interested in a new electric street car system invented by Malone Wheless of this city, and a company will be organized with a capital stock of $500,000. Instead of an overhead trolley or slot the connection is made from electro-magnetized pins eighteen feet apart along the centre of the track. Senator Stewart says it is a wonderful invention and the best yet produced.

THE VENERABBE DOW.

Maine's Famous Prohibitionist Makes an Eloquent Speech.

New York, June 7.—The international temperance congress will convene to-morrow at 10 a.m. in the big tabernacle in Prohibition Park, Staten Island. Most of the delegates are here and several preliminary meetings were held to-day.

At the principal meeting held this afternoon General Neal Dow of Maine was the most conspicuous figure. Especial honor was paid to General Dow because the delegates were celebrating the 40th anniversary of the signing of the first prohibition law in Maine.

Hon. Wagner Swayne of this city presided. Dr. Joseph Cook of Boston was the principal speaker. His address was a review of "Sixty Years of Temperance Agitation; What It Has Accomplished." He paid a glowing tribute to the work done by General Dow in the campaigns for prohibition in Maine.

Dr. B. B. Taylor, D. D., of New York, then read and formally presented at the meeting an address to General Dow. It was signed by about 700 prohibitionists.

General Dow accepted the address and in a clear voice, distinct and silvery, said: "It will not be expected that I should reply to this address or to many admirable things said about myself. It would be a very difficult thing to do so, because I do not feel that I have done anything to entitle me to so much honor. I have no words to present my appreciation."

Continuing, Mr. Dow told of the effect of prohibition in Maine and of the good work being done to secure universal prohibition. "In that state," he said, "an entire generation had grown up without having seen a grog shop or known the taste of rum. In three-quarters of our territory the rum traffic is unknown. There are many good men and intelligent men who declare prohibition can never win. I answer, yes, it will win, and I can name the day. It is when the church wakes from its lethargy; it is when the Christians of this country say to the liquor traffic, 'go,' and when they vote. Then it will go."

Among the prominent persons who had seats reserved on the platform were Mrs. C. W. Gray of California and Mrs. E. M. Higgins of Colorado.

AMERICAN NEWS NOTES.

Daily Chronicle of the Events of the Great Republic.

Philadelphia, June 7.—The steamer Bonau, which arrived to-day reports that on April 16, the Bonau, while on outward passage from Philadelphia, sighted a large vessel with smoke issuing out from the main hatch and her distress flags in flames. The burning vessel was the French schooner Jacmel from Granville, France, to St. Pierre, Miquelon Island, with eight passengers and a crew of 26 men all told. A boat was lowered from the Bonau and the Jasmel was discovered to be not only on fire but leaking badly, heavy weather having opened her seams and partially water-logged her.

Efforts were made to save the craft. One man, William Pattenburg, the second mate, had succumbed to asphyxiation. The Jacmel went down in latitude 43.3, longitude 41.27.

Philadelphia, June 7.—Ex-Judge John B. Bromall of Media died to-day aged 78. In 1864 he was elected to Congress and served three consecutive terms. James G. Blaine, in his book, declared that Bromall's speech on the civil rights bill will always be regarded as one of the most magnificent utterances ever voiced in the house, and an unsurpassed example of conciseness and force in the use of the English language.

POWERFUL INFLUENCES.

A Presbyterian Clergyman's Views on the United States' Destruction.

San Francisco, June 7.—Rev. Franklin Rhoda preached on "Romanism" at the Howard Presbyterian church last night. Among other things he said:

"Of all the influences working for the destruction of this country, that of the church of Rome is the greatest. The papers say little about the movement now going on to counteract the effects. Yet you can scarcely advertise a meeting dealing with this question without drawing a large concourse of people whom you have never seen before.

"New organizations are springing up everywhere. We hear much of an organization of three letters. This A. P. A., which has sprung up in some mysterious way and from some mysterious source, is filling every Catholic paper in the country. Rome is alarmed. Its strength is not known, but it is said to be powerful."

INHUMAN PARENTS.

People Who Insure their Children's Lives and then Let Them Die.

Bay City, Mich., June 7.—It is stated here that persons in this city have insured the lives of their children for paltry sums in so-called industrial insurance concerns and then exposed the little ones wilfully to the terrors of contagious and fatal diseases. For some time past a life insurance company of New York has been operating here, and has written hundreds of risks on the lives of children ranging from one and two years to fifteen years old. The payments required were small, five and ten cents a week covering the premiums, and for this the parents in the event of the death of the children received from $15 to $150. The chief officer of the city sanitary department has been at work on the cases, and has found four cases where children were permitted to die during the past four months for no cause except to collect the insurance.

One case occurred the past week where the parents got $100 for the death of a fourteen year old girl. The attending physician says there was not the slightest danger of death if the child had been attended to, but he was not called until she had been sick several days, and then the parents refused to get the medicine ordered. The case was reported to the police, and to their amazement the parents brazenly announced she was insured. They had told the neighbors that she was going to die. The other cases were similar, and it is even known in one case that the child was exposed to diphtheria by the parents, and the police allege it was for the direct purpose of causing its death to secure the insurance.

So far the investigations made have revealed four cases in which it is known that children were killed [illegible] insured. But there are over a dozen others which are suspected of a similar course. In a report on the matter the chief sanitary officer says:

"In several cases of diphtheria which have come to my notice I have discovered the most shameful neglect on the part of the parents of the patients. On inquiry in these cases I have found that the lives of the children have been insured in a company which makes a specialty of this business, and I am forced to the belief that they were neglected and that innocent lives were sacrificed to an insatiable greed for gain."

He adds that to this cause may be ascribed to a considerable extent the failure of the board of health to stamp out the spread of diphtheria, which threatened to become epidemic here a few months ago.

The cases reported have all been among the poor, and one family was being supplied with food by the authorities and still managed to keep up its assessments to the insurance company.

The cases are such that the law cannot reach them. While there is a moral certainty of guilt, the lack of direct proof is such that if there were a law to cover the matter the guilty ones could scarcely be convicted.

TAKEN RED-HANDED.

Chinese Gamblers in 'Frisco Caught in the Very Act.

San Francisco, June 7.—Another painful surprise was given the gamblers of Chinatown last night. Sergeant Escola and the Native Son squad succeeded in accomplishing what has not been done in a long time—the capture of a big lottery drawing. The news spread rapidly, causing consternation in Chinese quarters. Agencies are successfully raided once in a while, but seldom is a drawing taken. It was all done very quietly, and the four Chinese engaged in supervising the drawing were locked up in the old city hall until tailed by Big Chung, the partner of Big Jim, notorious as the wealthiest and the boldest of the lottery proprietors.

A complete lottery drawing outfit was seized in the raid, together with $363.75 in cash. The drawing was taking place in a small dark room up the winding stairway of a Dupont street house. It was a remote place, most suitable for the purpose for which it was selected.

Sergeant Escola and his squad slipped quietly up the stairs and along the dark passages, finally locating the apartment in which the drawing was being held. On breaking in the door the Chinese gang was discovered at work. The lottery "lay-out" was complete.

The operators made no demonstration. They submitted quietly and aided the police in gathering up the tickets and coin, which had been spread out on rudely constructed tables. The Chinese lottery operators have succeeded in eluding the police for some time. It is over a year since the last capture of a drawing was made. Of late the drawings have been held in back rooms, unfrequented attics, on the roofs of houses and in cellars. This last capture will no doubt keep them moving at an even livelier pace.

CLYDE'S HAMMERS.

When They Make Music Glasgow Enjoys Good Times.

Seattle, June 7.—G. S. Logan, after an absence of 21 months in Scotland, started from Glasgow on the steamer City of Rome on May 10th and came through direct, with the exception of a few days spent in New York and delays caused by floods on the Canadian Pacific. He said of affairs in Scotland: "Business over there is very good and capital is abundant, for the people have learned a lesson from the Australian bank failures and are putting their money into home investments. The shipbuilding yards are filled with orders enough to employ them for three or four years, and some of them are even refusing orders. They are working principally on government orders for gunboats, torpedo boats and yachts. The Coxeyite movement is regarded as a farce and laughed at."

It is not what its proprietors say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

GEESE GALORE.

A Flock of the Anserines Visit Town en Route North.

Tacoma, June 7.—A flock of wild geese, three or four hundred, in passing over the city last night at 11 o'clock on their spring migration northward, became attracted by the electric arc lights and alighted on C street near Tenth. The geese were blinded by the flare and brilliancy of the lights and ran about the streets wildly, making the most discordant noises imaginable. Many of the birds, after alighting, attempted to rise again, but came in contact with the telephone, electric light and telegraph wires overhead, and some of them were killed by the violence of the shock.

The geese had evidently been feeding well, for they were of tremendous size, some of them standing three feet high and weighing at least 75 pounds. They fluttered about the streets, dashed into the pavements and buildings, knocking themselves senseless. They were lying about two and three deep in a state of blissful coma, while those that were able to run around, were chased by the boys, men and women, who happened to be on the street at that hour. The unusual appearance of the birds attracted a large crowd.

Several hotel clerks joined in the sport, and, though one goose was all that each man cared to carry, in a remarkably short space of time thirteen huge, fat birds were piled up in a corner of The Tacoma, where they were later distributed among the employees. It is estimated that at least 230 of the geese were captured and carried away. The 11:30 cable car, which went up Tenth street, carried 63 geese by actual count, each passenger being the happy possessor of from three to six birds.

TO THE ELECTORS
—OF—
Victoria City Electoral District.

Gentlemen:—The general election now being near at hand, and being a candidate for re-election, I wish to place my views on some of the questions commanding your attention, as well as to intimate the line of action which I shall take and the measures which I shall, if opportunity permits, support and maintain.

The party now in power have practically held office for over eleven years. Their policy has been an indefinite one on many of the questions requiring consideration. At the last general election the Opposition advocated reform in the land laws of the province, and have been able to make some important changes.

The privilege of allowing speculators and non-residents to take up large tracts of land has been taken away and the lands are now available for actual settlers.

By the efforts of the Opposition the assessment of the wild land has been much increased; the ad valorem principle of assessment according to the land value, is now the law.

There are two essential matters yet to be carried out in connection with the encouraging of agricultural settlers. First, the surveying of available lands for such a purpose and giving the necessary information by the Lands and Works Department; second, the making of roads to such settlements, so that the farmer may be able to bring his produce to market—such a policy as this must be adopted in order to develop and encourage the farming industry of our province. By so doing we shall add much to our wealth and prosperity.

The railway policy of the Government has not been a business-like one. From the time of the grant given to the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway down to the Nakusp & Slocan deal, the interests of the province and the welfare of the people have not been well guarded. On the one hand a corporation receives a large subsidy and an immense tract of land, free from taxation for ever, on the other, a private company is subsidized by guaranteeing the bonds to the full cost of the road as well as interest on the same for twenty-five years. One cannot but come to the conclusion that a Government policy of such character is likely to bring the credit of the province into disrepute.

Monopolies of any kind are to be deplored, but monopolies backed by Government aid and support are often the most difficult to overcome. Government aid to such an extent as has been given in the instances referred to, precludes other roads from being assisted or built. As an instance of this we recognize the difficulty the British Pacific Railway will have in dealing with the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway and its existing rights. Thus by the action of the present Government in the past it looks as if the province were at the mercy of kingsters and monopolists who are despoiling the people of their heritage.

I am opposed to the executive using its power to make large appropriations of money by special warrant for roads, streets, bridges, and public works, without first submitting such to the legislature. Such a course of action leads to favoritism and corruption, and is not in accord with the principles of constitutional government.

I have advocated, and will continue to do so, the reduction of taxation on improvements and the abolition of taxes on mortgages. The latter impost presses doubly hard upon the borrower, and the repeal of this law would be in the interest and for the advancement of the province.

The practice followed on the eve of a general election of promising aid to public works and institutions by members of the executive should be condemned, as it is attempting to bribe the electors with their own money. The independent electors should answer this by sending men to the Legislature who will do their utmost to remove such ministers from power.

During the past four years legislation has been brought about, chiefly by the Opposition, in reforming the School Law. The residents of the cities have now greater power over the management of their schools, and more is yet desired in this particular. I shall use my best endeavors to bring this about, so that our schools may be free of all political influences.

I have also advocated further restriction on Chinese immigration and the employment of Chinese by any company seeking charters or grants from the Legislature. I have advocated and still maintain that a clause should be inserted in all bills giving such privileges or aid to prevent the employment of this class of labor.

I also have advocated the necessity of employing residents of the province instead of non-residents or foreigners in the prosecution of all works or contracts let by the government.

It is impossible in an address of this kind to touch on all questions affecting the province. I hope, however, before long to have the opportunity of addressing the electors in public meeting, at which time I will refer to matters more extensively.

Hoping that my past record as a representative in the Local Legislature has been acceptable to you, I again seek your votes and support.

I remain, yours respectfully,

G. L. MILNE.

—OF—
Victoria City Electoral District.

Gentlemen—As a candidate in the coming contest for legislative honors, and particularly as a labor candidate, I take this method of expressing some of the views I hold relating to the good government of the province.

I believe that heretofore, although workingmen have assisted largely in electing representatives to the legislature and parliament, their interests have not, generally speaking, been advanced or guarded; but on the contrary laws have been enacted whereby the greater burden of taxation has been placed upon the shoulders of the workingman, and monopolies have been fostered to the detriment of their interests and the country at large. Too many professional men and capitalists have made or influenced the making of our laws, and I believe that a remedy may be applied by workingmen being represented in the councils of our land by men from their own ranks—men who are not only in sympathy with them, but who are in touch with their necessities.

I believe that every man is entitled to an equitable share of what his labor produces; also that enterprise and ability to organize and direct labor to the accomplishment of large undertakings deserves special consideration, but not to the extent that it is often accorded by the governments of the present day.

I would advocate a reduction in the hours of labor, and consider an eight hour law should be established by the government and enforced on all government work.

Also the establishment of a provincial labor bureau for the purpose of gathering reliable information on the labor situation, so that intending immigrants may be made fully acquainted with the true state of the labor market in the province.

I believe that as a class the Chinese are injurious to the province, as they undoubtedly ridicule our religion and laws; introduce loathsome diseases and demoralizing habits; they trade exclusively among themselves and send what wealth they may acquire from our province to enrich their own empire. I believe the government should make every effort to lessen the evil which is the result of the presence of Coolie labor, and in the absence of laws similar to those in force in Australia, our government should, when granting privileges to companies and corporations, insist on a clause in the charters granted prohibiting the employment of Asiatic labor by such corporations or companies.

I advocate a liberal railway policy, feeling sure that we must have these most important highways to assist in developing the many latent resources of the province; but am opposed to the granting of monopolies in land for speculative purposes to companies to the exclusion of settlers.

I also believe that all religious questions should be kept out of our schools, being confident that the numerous religious institutions are quite capable of dealing with that matter.

I will more fully express my views on these questions at public meetings to be held. Hoping for some of your votes and to give the good society at the back, I am,

Yours respectfully,

ARTHUR H. DUTTON.

—OF—
Victoria City Electoral District.

Gentlemen:—As I am a candidate to represent you in the Provincial Legislature, I wish to give my views on some of the important questions of the day.

I hold that each man is entitled to all his labor produces; therefore, no tax should be levied on the products of labor.

The road tax, the provincial revenue tax, personal property tax, mortgage tax, taxes on improvements, and all taxes on useful trades and industries are unjust and should be abolished.

To carry out these principles, I am in favor of raising all public revenues for provincial and municipal purposes by a tax upon land values, irrespective of improvements.

This tax would lower rents, raise wages, encourage industry, equalize opportunities, and thereby benefit all.

The present electoral system gives unequal representation, and calls for legislative reform.

The monetary deposit now required from candidates for the provincial legislature should be abolished.

I am in favor of passing laws to exclude Asiatic labor from government works and prohibiting any further Asiatic immigration. When Chinese labor can be excluded from any works, by inserting clauses to that effect in charters and grants, it should be done.

I advocate a reduction in the hours of labor; an eight hour law should be established by the government and enforced on all government works.

I am in favor of establishing a Small Debts Court, to enable merchants and others to collect accounts with as little loss of time and money as possible.

I am an independent supporter of the opposition, because I feel they are inclined to go farthest in the direction of the reforms which I advocate; at the same time I wish it distinctly understood I am for measures and not for men.

As canvassing by a candidate is, in my opinion, contrary to the spirit of the ballot, it is not my intention to personally ask for votes. Trusting you may deem me a fit and proper person to represent you in the legislature, I hereby earnestly solicit your votes and influence. Faithfully yours,

W. G. CAMERON.

A FOOLISH GAME.

Its suppression of Mr. Vernon's reference to the British Pacific the Colonist explains in this way: "Seeing that this preface of the minister's remarks on the subject of the Canada Western betrayed a prejudice on the part of the reporter, we had no hesitation in striking the whole passage out. We made a mistake in not marking the blanks with asterisks, but this we corrected for the Weekly issue long before we had seen the Times." The sufficiency of the explanation may be best judged from a perusal of the suppressed passage, which we take the liberty of reproducing:

"The Great Western humbug was the next point the speaker touched upon, and this he condemned in the most emphatic terms. No proposition of any description had ever been laid before the government by the promoters of the railway, and it would receive no vestige of support if it were ever broached."

The "preface" of which the Colonist speaks is of course that obnoxious phrase "The Great Western humbug," and we are content to leave it to any reader of intelligence whether the presence of this phrase justified the excision of the whole passage. The organ's explanation is just a little "too thin;" its real motive for suppressing Mr. Vernon's remarks lay in its unwillingness to have these read by Victorians. We may repeat that its course in this regard was as futile as it was cowardly, for Mr. Vernon's words were quite certain to reach the Victoria public in any event, the more certain because of the Vancouver organ's action in giving them special emphasis. There is no reason to suppose that the Vernon reporter misrepresented what Mr. Vernon said on the subject of the British Pacific; and the Colonist will yet realize that its suppression of that particular passage was a very foolish move. Our neighbor may account it good policy to give its readers "asterisks" instead of passages obnoxious to itself, but we should expect the readers to come back with the question of Eliphaz the Temanite: "Why should a wise man utter vain knowledge and fill his belly with the east wind?"

A SOUTH VICTORIA CANDIDATE.

Mr. John F. Chandler, who resides at "Sinners-haunt Farm," on the Burnside and Saanich cross-roads, has issued an address to the electors of South Victoria district which is remarkable for its free-and-easy criticism of Messrs. Eberts and Carey and the government system of road building. Mr. Chandler says that he will "maintain a frank and manly independence," and seems to be quite indifferent as to whether he is claimed by the government or opposition. There is nothing stereotyped or hackneyed about Mr. Chandler's style of addressing the electors and his fearlessness in arraigning the government is quite as conspicuous as when he scores the "political chicanery" of Mr. Carey. The following is the indictment against Mr. Eberts:

"A stron feeling exists throughout this district that our representative, Mr. D. M. Eberts, has not fairly, fully, or well represented the district during the four years just past, and I am assured that a very large number of the electors are very much dissatisfied.

"The various interests of the district have been shamefully neglected—our roads—bad enough in summer, are axle deep in mud and almost impassable in winter. The bridges, I hear, are badly in need of repair; the farmers' teams stand idle in their barns, while teams, and not only teams, but men, are brought from Victoria city to do the work upon the highways that extend past our doors; a favored few political hacks or bosses in the district do indeed get all the work their teams can do, and draw large amounts of money from the public treasury—not, I admit, in their own names, but in the names of the men they entrust with their teams; thus, if you accuse these bosses personally of getting all the pap from the government, you are told with a remarkable air of self complacency that they had twenty dollars or so in the last three years. In this manner these bosses are amply repaid for furnishing wagons and horses to carry roadmen and others to political meetings and to the voting places. I say in this way they are well repaid, lest I very much fear that the boss thus accepted are paid for and doubly paid for out of the taxes that you and I contribute to the provincial treasury."

There is much truth and not a little poetry in Mr. Chandler's manifesto. It remains, however, to be seen what effect an admixture of truth, poetry and politics will have on the selection of a representative in South Victoria.

"SPECIFIC CASES."

The Colonist calls for specific cases of unnecessary and extravagant expenditure of public works money, very conveniently ignoring the fact that specific cases have been mentioned more than once in the last few weeks. It is only a few days since the Nelson Tribune exposed the blundering which has caused a large waste of money on the New Denver and Slocan wagon road. It is not very long since the Times referred to two roads that have been constructed in Highland district which are not of the slightest use to the public. The organ talks about an inquiry into the expenditure of the road money, and we should think that such an inquiry would prove extremely interesting, if not edifying, to the taxpayers whose money is wasted through blundering and corruption. Suppose the Esquimalt district road superintendent were asked why he made a half mile of road to Capt. Rant's pre-emption, and why he constructed the Fork Lake road. The one is useful only to Capt. Rant and the other, so far as appears, has been of value only to the men who were paid for building it, for it cannot be driven over, and nobody would want to drive over it if it were ever so passable. How much of the $11,000 spent in Esquimalt district last year went for work such as this no man can tell. Neither can any single person survey the whole province and see for himself how many cases of costly blundering and misspending have occurred; but it is rational to infer that they are numerous. "Ex uno disce omnes." A commission of inquiry into the government's road expenditure would probably be a profitable investment for the taxpayers, for it would do away with all doubt as to the necessity of a change of system. Such change of system will come, however, with the change of government.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The News-Advertiser mentions another instance of the squandering of money which was supposed to be set aside for the execution of useful public works. It says:

Within the last few days a report has been received of a most glaring instance of the manner in which the public money is squandered for political purposes, especially at ante-election periods. In a rural district, the appropriations for public works for which were about $8000, a second road superintendent has been appointed at a salary of $125 per month. So that there are two officials appointed at a cost of $3000 a year, to superintend the expenditure of about $8000! What will taxpayers say to such a thing? Nearly 40 per cent. of the money intended by the legislature for expenditure on public work misappropriated—for no other word will express it—for the payment of officials to superintend its disbursement! The person who was thus appointed as the second superintendent is a gentleman well thought of by his neighbors and there is nothing to complain of about him. But it is significant that the appointment was made on the urgent representation of the gentleman who has been the member for the district in the past and is again a candidate in the government interest! It also happens, but of course this is simply an accident, that the person appointed was one who had been mentioned by his neighbors as a man likely to receive general support should he come forward as an Opposition candidate! Electors should consider these things. They are the solution of the problem as to how it happens that with all the large sums expended for public works so little is accomplished; that settlers are forced to abandon their claims for lack of roads and that the productions of the province fail to keep pace with the demands which have to be supplied from abroad.

It was not quite wise of the government organ to seek to discredit our report of the Burnaby meeting and ask the public to accept one it offers. Only yesterday the organ was detected "doctoring" the report of Hon. Mr. Vernon's speech, and even its own readers will now look on all its reports of outside meetings with distrust. Besides, the Colonist had no representative at the Burnaby meeting, and therefore no means of knowing what took place.

"From Kootenay to Cowichan comes the glad intelligence that the people are rising in their might determined to prevent the olla-podrida that masquerades as opposition from overthrowing the government of the day. The nationalist-independent-opposition party have become thoroughly discredited in the country, and it is freely predicted that if they carry six out of the 33 seats they will be doing marvels. Dis-united and policyless, etc., etc." This bombast, as many people would guess, comes from the Vancouver World. Who would suppose from the organ's effusion that the government party in Vancouver has not yet been able to find a man to take Mr. Horne's place on the government ticket?

ROUNDED UP.

Robbers of Delayed Passengers Speedily Run to Earth.

Helena, Montana, June 7.—Thompson Falls, in Montana, is one of the places where trains have been delayed by reason of the floods. Highwaymen took advantage of the situation early Sunday morning and entered an eastbound passenger train standing on the track at that point. Before they were frightened off they had secured two or three gold watches and several hundred dollars in money. Full details of the robbery have not been received, owing to the condition of the telegraph wires. On being notified that the crime had been committed Superintendent Dickinson instructed E. A. Gardner, manager of the Northwest Special Agency' to spare no expense in recovering the stolen property and arresting the criminals. One of Mr. Garner's lieutenants, with two other men, was in the vicinity of Thompson Falls and was promptly put on the case. Yesterday the railroad company received information that he and his two assistants had "rounded up" the robbers, arrested them and had them bound over in the justice court at Thompson Falls yesterday morning in the sum of $5000 each. In addition to getting the men, the detectives have recovered all the stolen property. The capture is considered a piece of remarkably fast and clever work.

BLOOD FREELY FLOWED.

Striking Miners Rush to Arms and Some Get Shot.

Bloomington, Ills., June 7.—A mob of 400 strikers assembled at Bentonville today prepared to attack Little Bros.' coal mine near Pekin. Sheriff Frederick went to the mine with a posse. The strikers crossed the Illinois on boats and were met by the sheriff, who commanded peace, but in vain.

Led by a stalwart miner with a revolver in each hand, they charged on the mine. Little Brothers, their two sons and John Jackson, colored, retreated into the tower over the shaft and opened fire on the mob, some of whom fell. The fire was returned, and the men in the tower hoisted a flag. The firing was hotly continued and the tower was riddled, the shaft set on fire and air shaft closed. The crowds fled, as it was feared the powder house would be ignited. Of the besieged, Jackson was killed, Ed. Little was shot in the breast and may die, Pete Little was shot in the arm. Eight or ten miners are in the shaft and it is feared all are suffocated. Among them are Gus and Fred Moritz and John Rocky. Ed. Bloom, of the mob, was killed and half a dozen others wounded. It is believed that two will die.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

Suppressed Socialists—Excitement in Rome—Inventor Turpin's Secrets.

Paris, June 7.—The demonstration by the socialists in commemoration of the "bloody week" of the commune which it was proposed to make to-day at the Cemetery Pere la Chaise was abandoned. Attempts were made by the socialists to hold meetings elsewhere, but the police interfered and suppressed them.

Rome, June 7.—Many anarchists were arrested in Rome last evening to prevent their raising a disturbance during today's demonstration in honor of Garibaldi. The military review was a great success and the king and queen were greeted with acclamation. In the evening the streets were filled with orderly crowds witnessing a display of fireworks. Much excitement prevails in political circles. It is expected Premier Crispi will make important declarations to-morrow.

Paris, June 7.—M. Lagrange of La Patrie and M. Gutierre and Garnier of the Figaro, who went to Brussels to see Turpin, the inventor, were successful in convincing him that he would be guilty of a great wrong against France if he were to sell his secrets to Germany. The three journalists received from Turpin and brought back with them all the documents descriptive of his plans and inventions and will place them in the hands of the minister of war to-day.

FORTUNE MAKING IS SLOW.

So Reports a Miner From the Gold Fields of Alaska.

S. B. Robbins and E. F. Shoemaker were in Seattle a few days ago on their way from Alaska, where they have been for the past six years. Mr. Robbins has carefully studied the varied elements of the gold mining industry in the far north. He is now in San Francisco, and during the course of an interview he said he would not advise any man to go into that country expecting to make a fortune in short order.

"Last year was a very hard one," said Mr. Robbins, "particularly on those who went up there with barely enough to live on. Over 400 men crossed into the Yukon basin, some equipped only with a single blanket and food enough to last them a few days. The wages are a half ounce—about $8—a day, but there are two men for every job in sight.

Every man who goes into the Yukon country should have at least $350 to $400. That is enough to carry him through for a year. He can then winter in the basin and be at once prepared to commence work when the spring opens. Four of my friends during the past season cleared up $90,000 but their luck was exceptional."

The mine in which Mr. Robbins and his partners were interested is located at Holcomb's Bay. This was formerly known as Sumdum Bay and is located about 56 miles southeast of Juneau. According to Mr. Robbins the coat mines are very rich. "There are over twenty miles of coast line which is practically unworked. The coast mines can be operated all the year round if the mills are near the shore.

"The great Treadwell mine," said Mr. Robbins, "runs every day in the year except two, Fourth of July and Christmas. It is now down 200 feet and is getting richer every foot it goes down. There was some talk last year of putting in 100 additional stamps in order to keep up with the ore output. There are many mines along the coast that are equally as rich as the Treadwell, but the coast line is so rough and the vegetation so rank that prospecting is very slow work.

"There are hundreds of men up there who have claims staked out, on which they are barely able to keep up their assessment work. They have made the same mistake which hundreds of others have—gone up there as they would to a mine where the base of supplies is distant the journey of a day or two. The past season was very severe. The snow was frequently six feet deep where it usually averages about a foot.

"There is room for 100,000 men in Alaska, but they must go up there prepared to spend at least four months of the year in idleness. If they strike the country at the right time they can earn good wages at steady employment. I would caution all intending to go there to think well of what they may be called upon to encounter."—Seattle Telegraph.

WHAT WAS DONE

By the Grand Lodge of K. of P., Now in Session.

At the session of the grand lodge of K. of P. last night a committee consisting of G. S. Russell, J. R. Kennedy and Thomas Deasy was appointed to visit the steamer Kingston, and on behalf of the grand lodge bid farewell to the supreme chancellor. On motion the Pythian Sentinel was accepted as the official organ of the grand lodge of British Columbia. A motion to dispense with the per diem and mileage allowance to past grand chancellors was laid over for one year.

This morning's session was taken up with the discussion of several proposed amendments to the constitution. It was decided to change the constitution to permit of notice of amendment being sent to the grand keeper of records and seals two months prior to the meeting of the grand lodge instead of giving practically a year's notice, as the constitution now requires.

The following were elected officers for the current year:

Grand chancellor, J. C. Byrne, of Far West lodge, No. 1; grand vice-chancellor, T. Ackerman, of Royal lodge, No. 6; grand prelate, A. A. Richardson, of Nanaimo lodge, No. 4; grand master of exchequer, J. B. Kennedy, of Royal lodge, No. 6; grand keeper of records and seals, W. K. Leighton, of Myrtle lodge, No. 9; grand inner guard, J. Haddock, of Damon lodge, No. 8; grand outer guard, Walter Fitzhenry, of Fraser River lodge, No. 12.

A vote of thanks was tendered the tellers, Col. H. F. W. Behnsen and Supreme Representative J. Crossan.

This afternoon the grand lodge went into committee of the whole on the proposed amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the subordinate lodges.

It is probable that Vancouver will be the place of meeting of the next grand lodge session.

WORKINGMEN AND TAXES.

To the Editor:—I see an article in to-day's Colonist about the taxes that a workingman has to pay in this province. The writer, who signs himself A Working Man, says that he has been in this province several years and has only been asked to pay three dollars per year. Well, sir, I will give you my experience since I came into this province. I came here last July and went to work with a farmer on the Fraser for two weeks at hay-making, and I had only been working five days when a tax collector came and took two dollars from every man employed on the place for a road tax. I would not pay it, as I was only in the country ten days and the law allows thirty days. Then I came in to Vancouver and got a week's work at two dollars per day, and when it went for my $12 they stopped $3 for a provincial tax. I told the clerk that I was not a month in the country yet, and I thought it was very hard. He said it did not matter if I was only five minutes in the country, I had earned $12 and must pay $3 tax. Well, sir, I came over to Victoria and lived as best I could through the winter on my own means without charity from anyone, and I was lucky enough to get three weeks' work in the space of five months this year, and when I went to get paid the tax collector had been there and took $3 of my hard earned money, amounting to the magnificent sum of $28.80 and he never asked me how long I had been working for, but just assumed it was all the same to him; I had earned the money. Now, sir, I hope you will find room for this and let the Colonist see how the workingmen pay taxes. They are not asked to pay when they can afford it, as the landlord and the grocer will do, but must pay when you earn your first money, as witness the government buildings.

They will be taken over the usual route and shown all points of interest along the coast. —Deputy Commissioner Gore on Saturday telegraphed to Arthur Stevenson, superintendent government works, Ashcroft, to start construction of a large, first-class ferry scow to be used in crossing the Thompson river until a new bridge is erected. The destruction of the bridge at this point is a very serious matter, as the whole traffic to and from Cariboo, Lillooet, etc., crossed the Thompson at Ashcroft. Mr. Stevenson was instructed to procure lumber at Kamloops, as well as row boats and men to man them, and to telegraph length of steel cable required to operate the ferry. It will be necessary, no doubt, to use the ferry for several months, as nothing can be done on a new bridge until the water is at its lowest stage, which will be late in the summer.

The mail will therefore be closed at five o'clock on Sunday evening. Tickets for the round trip have been placed at $2, so a large attendance is expected. During the summer the City of Kingston will bring excursions here for the lacrosse matches. The boat will on these trips leave the sound earlier than usual in order to get the excursionists here in time. Lacrosse is taking wonderfully well at Seattle, Tacoma and Port Townsend, and the plan of the company will be welcomed on both sides of the line.

—A dispatch from Port Townsend says: [illegible] owned by Makah Indians, of Neah Bay, have violated the provisions of the sealing regulations, and the authorities are preparing to take steps for their forfeiture. After being warned the Indians took the schooners thirty miles west of Cape Flattery and sent crews sealing in open boats. At night they returned the catches to the vessels. This was repeated several days. The Perkins took 220 and the Puritan eighty skins, which they landed and sold at Victoria. Captain Tozier, of the revenue cutter Grant, was advised of the proceedings and reported the matter to the treasury department, which ordered him to place the vessels under surveillance and assist the district attorney in prosecuting the cases. Tozier says the Indians profess to have misunderstood the law and evince no disposition to conceal the facts. Under these circumstances the vessels may escape prosecution when the department is fully advised.

—There are several sealers almost ready to leave for Behring sea via Unalaska, but it has not yet been determined just how that can be done with safety. Captains Stewart and Hackett were at Esquimalt this morning to interview Rear-Admiral Stephenson, but the latter was ashore. Collector Milne has not been advised as to what course he is to pursue in the matter of sealing up spars. It is quite fortunate that the matter was brought up early, as there is ample time to arrive at an understanding and allow the sealers to reach Unalaska by July 31st. Fourteen out of twenty-four schooners of the coast fleet have returned to port.

THE ASSIZES.

The Concluding Chapter in the Celebrated Smith Case.

The Smith case was concluded to-day and a verdict of "guilty with a strong recommendation to mercy." Two witnesses were recalled by the court this morning and after Mr. Walls and Mr. Hall had concluded their addresses his lordship charged the jury rather against the prisoner. The offence was a new one by the code, but the principle underlying it all was that posts or stakes marking the divisions of property must not be interfered with. After the verdict the prisoner was sentenced to one hour's imprisonment and to a fine of $5. His lordship said he need not be locked up but kept under police surveillance.

Regina vs. Dr. Morrison was then called and adjourned until Monday at 11 a. m. Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C., and J. P. Walls have been retained by the prosecution.

HONOR THEIR HEAD.

An Address to Dr. Oronohyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger I. O. F.

The formation of a high court of the Independent Order of Foresters by coupling the province of British Columbia and the State of Washington, has been temporarily abandoned. When Supreme Chief Oronohyatekha was here the question was considered with prominent members of the local courts, and this was the decision. Dr. Oronohyatekha had to cut short his stay in British Columbia and [illegible] der him a reception. An address has been drawn up, and it will be engrossed and forwarded to him. It reads:

Victoria, June 6, 1894.

To Dr. Oronhyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger, Independent Order of Foresters:

Honored Chief: On the occasion of your visit to the capital of this province, we, the members of the Independent Order of Foresters in Victoria, embrace this opportunity of extending to you a hearty and fraternal greeting, and to assure you of our unswerving loyalty to the Supreme Court and its officers.

Doubtless you will observe many proofs of the progress of our city since you, with a few other loyal Foresters planted the banner of our Supreme Court at Ottawa in 1881 and since your last visit to Victoria. We recognize that the I.O.F. has flourished beyond even at that time the possibilities of imagination, until to-day it stands impregnable and challenges comparison the whole world over for its equal or superior as regards its progress and stability; an order with a membership of nearly 60,000 and a surplus fund of $911,820.66 as by March report, and an order that has been able to disburse to the sick and distressed of our number, and to the widows and orphans of departed Foresters, the magnificent sum of $2,234,424.19, is one surely to be proud of. In view of these tokens of more than ordinary prosperity granted to the work of your hands, while through all the years of trial and effort you have stood nobly at the helm of affairs, we cheerfully admit that the proud position which the I. O. F. now occupies is due in large measure to your zeal and untiring energy. We trust that you may long be spared to assist in spreading the knowledge of the benefits which the I.O.F. confers upon its membership in Scotland, England, Ireland, the United States, Canada and South America.

We remain, honored chief,
Yours in L., R. and Concord,
W. L. J. PREVOST.

OFF FOR BISLEY.

British Columbia's Representative on the Canadian Team.

Gunner George Turnbull of the Westminster battery of the B. C. B. G. A., having won a place on the Canadian team to Bisley this year, left last night for Montreal, where he will join the team leaving by the Allan steamer on the 22nd instant. The team will be in charge of Major Ibbotson, with Lieutenant Kirkpatrick of Toronto as adjutant, and is said to be one of the strongest teams so far representing the Dominion at the meeting of the national rifle association of Great Britain. Gunner Turnbull is the winner of the N. R. A. silver medal fired for under the auspices of the provincial association, which will entitle him to compete in the Prince of Wales match, restricted to holders of this medal. Gunner Turnbull has been assiduously practicing at the Westminster range, and he made some remarkably good scores and will no doubt give a good account of himself at Bisley.

MACHINATIONS OF THE RING.

Another Government Move—Dr. Praeger Eulogised—The Wheelmen.

Nanaimo, June 8.—It was rumored yesterday that Dr. Walkem intends to withdraw from the contest in South Nanaimo. It will not surprise the opposition party as one of the government men stated some time ago that pressure would be brought to bear on the doctor to prevent him from contesting the constituency so that one of the ring might stand a chance of being elected.

The banquet tendered to Dr. Praeger at the Windsor House last night by the board of trade was the most brilliant that has been given in the city. All the talented speakers residing within the city and district were present, and the doctor was eulogised in glowing terms for the prominent interest he had taken in the welfare of the city.

There are several bicycle riders from Victoria and Sound cities already here for the races on Saturday at Northfield. E. W. Bradley of Victoria will probably stand a good show, especially as he has one of the best machines in use.

J. H. Simpson, attorney for Vipond, will appeal to the full court in Victoria against the judgment of Judge Harrison in the case of Vipond vs. the corporation of Nanaimo. The ground of appeal has not been stated.

Uproar in Peru—General Eseta Killed—The Bluefields Affair.

New York, June 7.—The Herald's Lima dispatch says: Telegrams from the prefect of Punto received here to-day say the barracks were attacked by a band of men, who suffered defeat, 25 of its members being taken prisoners and confined on the Island of Toquila. The French minister to Peru has been exchanging correspondence with the government in relation to the expulsion of Combe. It is held by the French minister that the order to Combe to leave the country was a violation of the treaty. Combe is now in jail.

Panama, June 7.—The Star and Herald has received the following dispatch from San Salvador: In the battle of Santa Ana on May 24 the government troops, under General Antonio Eseta, were defeated. General Eseta died. Six hundred soldiers were killed. General Bolanos was wounded.

President Eseta has resigned in favor of General Bonilla. A counter revolution is sure to break out, as Bonilla is not generally acceptable. It is possible General Manuel Rivas may become president.

New Orleans, June 7.—The steamer William G. Hawes, five days from Bluefields, arrived at 6 p.m. to-day. Passengers report everything quiet in Bluefields and with no prospect of the condition of affairs being changed.

The New York, San Francisco and Magicienne are still at anchor near the bluff. The Nicaraguans are in full charge and Lacayo is administering affairs to the satisfaction of everyone save those merchants who do not like the idea of paying duties on imports.

The fort, wharf and customs regulations are the same as were in force under the old Mosquito government, except that under the new regime promises are not taken for the payment of duty, the money must be paid down before the goods are delivered.

Clarence is under British protection. This is said for effect. No one wants to hurt him, and he can still claim to be chief of the Mosquitos.

London, June 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Buenos Ayres says that the papers there unanimously condemn the proposed loan as a breach of the pledge made by the president of the republic. They also condemn any idea of suspending the interest on the public debt. They declare that the national revenue is rapidly decreasing in consequence of the general stagnation of commerce.

Guatemala, June 7.—It is reported that at Chalchuapa 500 Salvadoran soldiers joined the rebels, taking their arms. The rebel general, Madainago, defeated General Bolanos at Tejutla. General Gutieres deceived General Eseta by a retreat towards Honduras, then made forced marches and suddenly attacked Eseta, forcing him to fall back from Cojutepeque with heavy loss. General Rivas who threatened to march on San Salvador, distinguished himself in the Guatemala-Salvador war.

San Salvador, June 7.—Consternation reigns here, notwithstanding the glowing bulletins issued claiming victories over the rebels. The Esetas are making a strong stand and a brave fight, but the reports show the rebels are gaining. The streets are constantly patrolled, and people are endeavoring to conceal their money and other portable property, fearing an attack. Volunteers have been called for. The rebels are marching on Acajutla, and it is reported that the city of La Union is in revolt. The commander of the United States cruiser Bennington will protect American interests.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, June 7.—Representatives of England are here trying to arrange concessions for a railroad from here to Amapala, with a heavy land subsidy. The troops are paid. President Bonilla says he will have the country in a good condition financially before the end of the year. He expects to have no opposition in the election.

SURROUNDED BY SHARKS.

The Cherokee Payments May Lead to Many Crimes.

Tahlequah, (I. T.,) June 7.—This unusually quiet village is in a high state of excitement. The millions which the Cherokees receive for their lands will begin to change hands to-morrow. The Indians, as a rule, have large families, and the amount received by each member will be $266.45.

The population of the capital is 1600. It has increased to 15,000. A few have come to witness the novel sight, but the majority have come here to obtain from the Indians by fair means or foul some of the money. There is no danger of a raid being made as long as the money is in the treasury. The fear is that after the Indians draw their cash they will be robbed on their way home.

It is impossible to meet the demand for funds. The numerous swings run by steam are very attractive to the Indians. One hundred and fifty Cherokee maidens spent the afternoon on the merry-go-rounds.

HUSTLER FROM THE FAR WEST.

Congressman Caminetti's Wife a Help to Her Husband.

Leaders in congressional and fashionable circles at the national capital are fond of pointing to the wife of Congressman Caminetti, of California, as an illustration of what a woman can do when she will. The congressman did not seem to be out of the ordinary run of his colleagues when he appeared at Washington first, except that he enjoyed the distinction of being the first native born Californian to represent the golden state in the house of representatives. Before long, however, it began to be noticed that he had a way of gaining his point, and discovery was almost simultaneously made that to his wife was due much of the credit of his success. Mrs. Caminetti is a rather good-looking young woman with dark hair and eyes, vivacious, popular and apparently never with an unoccupied minute of walking time. There is an old story about her first meeting with her husband. Some years ago he delivered a Fourth of July oration at the place where his future wife lived. She was present, and at the close of his address, misled by the foreign sound of his name, remarked that the speaker was eloquent, but that she thought that an American born should have been selected to deliver the address. Shortly after she and her future husband were introduced. Born in California, this predisposed the young lady in his favor, and before long they were engaged to be married. Mr. Caminetti was then district attorney of Amador county. Later on he was elected to the assembly, in which he introduced and had passed what is known as the Caminetti school bill. This measure is said to have been drawn up by his wife, who was at one time a school teacher. When they arrived in Washington Mrs. Caminetti took complete charge of his congressional correspondence, answering most of the letters herself. More than once when some question of patronage has come up, she had it settled satisfactorily before slow-going Californians had begun to stir themselves about it. Though much of her time is otherwise occupied, Mrs. Caminetti overlooks not the smallest social duty. It is said for her that in the last session she spent every forenoon attending to correspondence and in the hours between 3 and 6 made 30 calls and looked in at four teas.

IRISH SURNAMES.

Origin of the Titles of Several Hibernian Families.

There is a magnificent sonority in the name of MacGiollamoholmoge, MacGulshenan, MacOiraghty, O'Dooyarma, O'Howley, O'Quigley, O'Mulcloky, and O'Mulmoghery. Many of these names are extinct, but a large proportion are still in evidence, and, what is more, in nearly every case the families bearing them are to be found in the same localities formerly inhabited by them—Dohertys in Donegal, Driscolls in Cork, Macdermotts in Connaught, Meaghers in Tipperary, and O'Sullivans in Cork and Kerry.

It is a notorious fact that many of the families which have come to be regarded as typically Irish are of alien extraction. Thus the Plunketts are of Danish origin; the Burkes, Dillons, Roches, Husseys, and all the tribe of Fitz are Anglo-Norman, while the Mitchells are English.

The Cornish names in Ireland are few and far between, but evidence of an extensive Welsh immigration is forthcoming in the fact that at the present day the name Walsh—pronounced Welsh—is to be met with in nearly every county in Ireland. The curious settlement of Welsh colonists in the Baronies of Forth and Bargy, in County Wexford, who maintained their ancient manners, customs and language for some four hundred years no longer deserves the title of a "peculiar people," given to them by Mr. S. C. Hall in 1841, the Forth dialect having practically died out, though many of the old family names—Codd, Sinnott, Rossiter, and Walsh—are still very common in the neighborhood.

The Huguenots were granted letters of naturalization in 1674, and founded colonies in Dublin, Kilkenny, Portarlington, Waterford, Cork, and Lisburn. Many prominent and distinguished Irishmen have borne, and still bear, Huguenot names—among whom mention may be made of the La Touches, Trenches, Le Fevres, Lefroys, and Lefanus, of the last of whom one may say, in the best sense, that they are Hibernis ipsis Hiberniores. The locus classicus for the Huguenots at the present day is the Townland of Deerpark, near Portarlington, where there are three families of the Blancs who have followed the trade of butchers without intermission for 150 years.—The Spectator.

TO TALK UNDER THE OCEAN.

A Cable a Foot Thick Needed for a Telephone.

It was Professor Sylvanus Thompson of London that set electricians talking again about what is known as submarine telephony. He was in the United States some months ago, and he declared his belief that a cable so constructed as to make what the electricians call self-induction balance and neutralize certain other elements of difficulty in the problem would render it possible to talk from the old world to the new. Practical electricians see small prospects of results from Professor Thompson's suggestion, as it would cost some millions of dollars to test the accuracy of his theory. He admits that his special form of cable would be costly and difficult to make and lay.

It is generally held by electricians that a cable with a thick enough conducting core properly insulated would carry the human voice under the ocean. Some electricians guess that the cable, insulating cost and all, that would carry speech under the Atlantic must be a foot in diameter. This is arguing from known facts, but unseen difficulties might arise. When the electrician has taken into account all he knows he is sometimes balked in practice by the development of things he does not know. The building of such a cable or of that suggested by Professor Thompson is believed to be a long way off.

The only man who has suggested a method of sending human speech under the ocean by means of cables now in use is T. L. Carty, a widely known electrical engineer of this city, who set forth his theory in a lecture about five years ago. Another man thought the idea of sufficient practical importance to have it patented. When Mr. Carty thinks so perhaps the other fellow will hear from him.

When a telegraph operator cables across the Atlantic there is an appreciable length of time between the communication of the impulse here and the recording of it on the other side, and the second impulse must be withheld until such time has elapsed. For this reason the human voice cannot be directly transmitted by cables now in use, for a single syllable would communicate hundreds of tiny impulses to the cable, and they would jostle one another, so to speak, in such a fashion that no clear record would be made on the other side. Mr. Carty suggested that the message be first talked into a phonograph upon one side of the Atlantic; that the phonograph then be connected with the cable and turned at so slow a rate that the impulses should not crowd on one another. A slowly moving phonograph on the other side would receive the message and, having its record, would be revolved rapidly enough for the sounds to be reproduced by the human ear.

Mr. Carty believes his plan perfectly sound in theory, but he admits that it would take a long time to send such a message. No experiment has been tried to demonstrate its practicability, partly because Mr. Carty is too busy earning a living in the service of a telephone company to take six months' off for devising the necessary machinery for the experiment and partly because the cable [illegible] New York Sun.

The Speedy Paris.

New York, June 6.—The American line steamer Paris is in, after the quickest passage from Southampton ever made. She left the Needles at 2.30 p.m. May 26, and arrived at Sandy Hook at 8.30 last evening over the south course, covering 3,119 miles, and making an average of 20.1 knots per hour, the best average ever made. The time was 6 days 11 hours and 31 minutes. This does not break the record of 6 days 9 hours and 37 minutes made on July 21st last, but on that occasion she took the northern course and only covered 3,052 miles.

R. P. Smith, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can weigh 150 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."

JUBILEE HOSPITAL.

A Satisfactory Showing for the Month of May.

At the regular meeting of the Jubilee hospital board held last night, Chairman Hayward presiding, Treasurer Chadley presented the financial report for the month. The total expenses were $1290.-98, a considerable decrease. The doctor's report stated that the number of patients in the hospital May 1 was 39; the number of patients admitted was 45; total number of patients treated, 84; total number of patients discharged, 34; number died, 6; number remaining June 1, 44; daily average, 45.91; total days' stay, 1409; cost of maintaining patients per day, $1.2; cost of feeding each patient per day, thirty cents.

Steward Jenkinson reported supplies received from Messrs. Hall, Ross & Co., Victoria Rice Mills, 200 pounds of rice and 137 pounds of wheat for the chickens; Mr. Elford, rhubarb, and H. Saunders, plants for beautifying the grounds. Received with a vote of thanks.

A special committee consisting of Messrs. Hayward, Helmcken, Gregory and Yates was appointed to confer with the government and city on the matter of bringing the hospital amendment act into force.

THROUGH THE MILL.

How Sam Lung Lost a Whole Lot of His Conceit.

"If there's anything I despise, and if there's anything that makes me feel unkind and desirous of resorting to paysical suasion, it is a cheeky Chinaman," said Dr. Blank, one of Victoria's smartest young physicians, as he threw himself back in the big operating chair and toyed meditatively with his watch chain and seals. The remark was addressed to a Times reporter, who had just stepped in to gather a few notes for the tourniquet and scalpel column.

"Why, doctor, who has been bothering you now? I hope you had your revenge anyway?"

"I had," replied the doctor grimly, "and," as he smiled, "it was rather funny. That's right; fish out your note pad, you news vulture, and I'll give it you as it happened. A Chinaman named Sam Lung came to my office to-day with a message from his mistress, a patient of mine. He was excessively fresh in actions and speech, and it did not take me very long to get a very fair little mad simmering. However, I let him go ahead poking his yellow nose everywhere, touching everything and cross-examining me like a fresh young lawyer who thinks he knows it all. A patient came in and Sam saw the galvanic battery in action. It is a very powerful one, as I'll prove to you later on. Well, after the patient went away the Chinese scoundrel bothered the life out of me to have a try at the box. I determined to give him a lesson. He couldn't keep his hands off it a second."

"Wha' for, wha' for, eh? Heap fine box; allee samee bank, eh? Where you catch'm? Pay muchee? Wha' cost, eh?" Then he wound up with, "I likee him; you no givee me? I eabe; keep him good."

"Sam," said I, as I pulled this small connecting pin you see here out of the end of the box, thus rendering the handles harmless until it should be inserted again, "Sam," you take those handles and try him; you heap good man; belly skookum Chinaman you; he no hurt you."

"With a confidence quite sublime Sam grabbed the handles and I began turning the crank. Sam had seen how the white man equirmed and wriggled around when the battery was working, and when he felt no injurious effects from the grinding he thought himself impervious to the battery's power.

"You no feel him yet, Sam?"

A broad grin of triumph overspread his ugly mug.

"No, no, he no catchee me. Chinaman too sklong; Chinaman heap sklong."

I turned the crank still faster.

"No feel him yet, Sam?"

He laughed and cried gleefully, "No feel him, no good, no touchee me, he! he!"

I now had the crank going as hard as I could turn it and suddenly inserted the pin, making the connection. Well of all the sights you ever saw! He leaped fully five feet off the floor, struck his thick skull on the chandelier there, breaking it.

"Head or chandelier?" queried the scribe.

"Why chandelier, of course, and when he got to the floor again he screamed as he twisted, 'h—llee! h—llee! white man kill white man, oh, oh, d—m, d—m, d—m, cussee ki yi yip, oh!'

I let him up after a few seconds and it was the humblest celestial that ever slunk down any flight of steps that left my office just then. Every microbe of conceit in his body had been galvanized out of it, and if Sam doesn't 'eb' all Chinatown know about his adventure with the devil-in-the-box, I'm no prophet. Anyway, he'll never come back any more."

LIFE IN PORTLAND.

Novelty of the Flood Has Worn Off and People Are Tired.

In Portland no further effort is being made to prevent the onward rush of the waters. Everywhere people are retreating as fast as possible to higher ground, and to so much higher ground that they will not be affected by five feet more of water. In many cellars where pumps have been kept going for several days past the water is gaining so fast that the pumps have been withdrawn and staging built over the first floors in anticipation of at least a three-foot rise. The flood broadens day by day and almost hour by hour, so that it is impossible to fix the exact limits. At 6 o'clock last night large boats could pass over the intersection of Fourth and Washington streets. The creeping waters were nearly up to Washington and Fifth. On First street the limit is at Taylor and on Second at Yamhill. The intersection of Second and Morrison is covered, but not sufficiently to permit boating. Down on Gibson street boats can be landed on Front, and on Davis street as far West as Second. Couples could row a boat along the street lake and cannot be reached except by wading or in boats.

The depth of water on Front street is sufficient for the navigation of large sized river craft. At Ash street it is eleven feet four inches, and heavily loaded Cascade barges are towed down the street with perfect ease. One of the barges, partially loaded, was towed up Davis street to Sixth, where it now stands. Small steamboats and heavy transports may be seen in all parts of the flooded district, especially east of Third street. At the Union depot a locomotive stands on the track half covered with water, with two more in the Terminal Company's round house, under the west approach to the steel bridge, are similarly treated. Down in the freight yard small boats can be rowed into the submerged box cars and clear over flat cars.

The situation on the river front is growing hourly more serious. With the increased current noticeable in the stream yesterday fears were entertained that some of the loosened docks might be carried out. Viewed from midriver, the outlook is most discouraging. Many docks have disappeared almost to the eaves beneath the muddy water, and are only kept from floating by the heavy loads of machinery, cement, etc., stored there. Ereding & Farrel's warf, at the foot of Alder street, has raised four feet. The merchandise stored there up to Sunday last has all been removed, and was not at all damaged. The removal of so great a weight released the building from its fastenings, and it is now careened towards the river. The steamer Telephone company's dock, adjoining, is floating and in bad shape. All the way down to the steel bridge, and below it, wharves are in about the same shape, with the exception of the Ash street wharf, which is much higher than the others. It is as yet perfectly firm. Below the Terminal Company's grounds several good sized buildings are afloat. One of them was evidently occupied as a dwelling until recently, for on the roof may be seen a lot of furniture and bedding. About five o'clock yesterday morning a large, substantial looking roof, well shingled and put together, floated down stream and bumped up against the Morrison street bridge. The draw was opened and it was permitted to pass on unchallenged.

At six o'clock last night the ends of the Morrison street bridge draw were resting on the water, and it required but a few inches further rise to disable the bridge. All day long men were stationed along the bridge with pike poles to pick out pieces of driftwood which caught there. The wash from passing steamers caused the flooring to creak ominously. Already the planking at the west approach is torn up, and it is necessary to cross over on elevated walks. It is anticipated that the bridge will have to be left open to-day. The west approach to the steel bridge is badly torn and damaged. A box car standing there is nearly under water, and on either side of it the track is afloat and twisted out of shape. Much of this is attributed to the wash of passing steamers. The Madison street bridge is all right, and although the water is uncomfortably deep on the east approach the planking is still firm and safe.

There is a constantly increasing prospect that many of the smaller buildings in the north end will be lifted from their foundations and carried into the street. The water is already from four to six feet in depth there, and in some cases reaches to the tops of the first story windows. A score or more of cottages were deserted yesterday, the tenants piling their household goods on rafts and row boats and moving to higher ground. Second and Fourth streets from Ankeny to the river appear to be entirely deserted, and portions of Sixth and Seventh are about in the same fix. The hotels and lodging houses on Third street are crowded. Saloon men who have been driven out of their places of business have built rafts and are doing business in the open air. Others have removed to the second story, where they appear to be doing a thriving trade. In that end of the town may be seen some of the most picturesque boats and rafts in the flooded district, and they all do a good business. Among them is a genuine mining boat, a regular double decker, which came from nobody knows just where, but it is said from the upper Columbia.—Oregonian.

ORIENTAL OCCURRENCES.

Smuggling In Japanese Girls—Ravages of the Black Plague.

San Francisco, June 7.—The steamer China, which arrived here to-day from the Orient, brings a peculiar story of the methods adopted by Japanese to smuggle girls into this country for immoral purposes. While the vessel was at the wharf at Yokohama receiving her cargo a Japanese passenger came on board and asked to have four boxes taken to his stateroom, but was refused, as the boxes were too large. The boxes were left to be placed in the hold with other cargo. Just as they were being hoisted up a peculiar noise issued from one of the cases and attracted the attention of the stevedores, who rolled them aside and called the police. Upon examination they were found to contain the almost lifeless bodies of four Japanese girls, who were overcome with suffocation. The boxes were only two feet three inches in length and one and one-half broad and deep. There was a small air hole at one end, but the boxes were laid on the wharf end up and the holes closed. Three of the girls were destined for a brothel at Portland and the other at Tacoma.

The black plague at Canton, Hong Kong and elsewhere has spread with great rapidity and both native and foreign colonies are in a state bordering on panic. The ravages of the pestilence have been aggravated by drought, extending over eight months. The epidemic has assumed a virulent form. In six hours thirty-three deaths were reported in Hong Kong. The plague has its origin in filth and dirt, and thrives best in poorer quarters.

London, June 7.—The Gazette to-day publishes a notification that according to a dispatch from the British minister at Stockholm the island of Hong Kong is infected with plague.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World.

THE TURF.

FRENCH JOCKEY CLUB.

Paris, June 7.—All the sporting world of Paris went to Chantilly to-day to witness the race for the Prix du Jockey Club (French Jockey Club) for three-year-olds. The money value was 138,600 francs ($27,770.) The distance was a mile and a half.

The race was won by Gospodara, a chestnut colt by Gamin out of Georgiana. Tojours, a bay colt by Retreat out of Totote, was second, and Styx, a bay colt by Trysten out of Symony, third. The post odds were 16 to 1 against Gospodara, 4 to 1 against Tojours and 5 to 1 against Styx.

There were twelve starters. Eglantier was first away and made the run to the rise followed by Genvanie, Tojours, Lahire and Styx in the order named. When the rise was reached Styx was given his head and he was soon in the lead. He showed the way into the stretch, but Gospodara came up and took the lead, winning by two lengths in front of Toujours, who in turn was two lengths ahead of Styx.

Gospodara and his jockey were attacked by a mob when they were returning to the paddock. They were protected from serious injury by the police. Loud imprecations against the stables of Mr. Cunningham, the owner of the winner, were heard on the turf and in the paddock. Gospodara, although the favorite for the Grand Poule des Produits, a fortnight ago, ran until placed in that place and was beaten by Genvanie. His victory to-day therefore induced the belief that he had not been ridden fairly in the former race. Mr. Cunningham is an English trainer and owner who has for a long time settled in France.

In the amateur scratch race at the Velodrome to-day Barker and Nelson finished first and second respectively. The distance was two thousand metres.

ATHLETICS.

YALES' CHOSEN MEN.

New Haven, Conn., June 7.—The date upon which the Yale athletic team will leave to compete with Oxford on July 14, will either be June 20 or 23. The Yale team began its preparatory practice yesterday for the meeting. Those who are to go are: Captain Hickok, hammer and shot; Cady, hurdles and sprints; Sanford, quarter mile and sprints; Sheldon, jumps and low hurdles; Morgan, mile run; Woodhill, half mile.

The following is the team for the Albions in their first match against the Victorias to-morrow at Caledonian Park. Play will commence at 2:30. F. W. Thomas, captain; C. Frost, H. Howard, J. C. Jones, H. Martin, J. E. Martin, G. A. Maltby, C. Schwengers, R. H. Swinerton, Q. D. H. Wardon. Reserve—A. A. Green. Umpire—P. Schwengers. On Monday, June 11th, there will be a general meeting of the Albion Cricket club, held at the grounds at 8 p.m., for the purpose of selecting a captain and vice-captain for the season.

VICTORIA COLLEGE V. UNITED BANKS.

To-morrow the United Banks cricket club play an eleven of Victoria College at Beacon hill. The college team will be as follows: C. Cartwright, J. Rithet, C. Marpole, P. Higgins, J. Lawson, D. Macleod, J. Peters, A. Goward, J. Mitten, C. Mitten and G. Wilson.

CANOEING.

TO-MORROW'S CRUISE.

All members of the Victoria Canoe club are reminded that a start will be made to-morrow afternoon at two from the club house, James Bay, for the cruise. The rendezvous will be at the first point above Craigflower bridge. A fine programme of races of different sorts, a tilting match and other interesting contests of skill and speed, has been carefully prepared. The members are requested to bring as many of their friends as they please, and not to forget that there will be an excellent opportunity to enjoy the pleasures of an al fresco luncheon. A weather eye will be strictly in order.

THE OAR.

THE VARSITY CREW.

New Haven, Conn., June 8.—The Yale faculty have gladdened the hearts of the varsity oarsmen by finally granting them permission to leave for their quarters at New London, Saturday, June 9th. The faculty this year wished to keep the oarsmen here till the examinations were well under way, but they have at last granted the desired permission.

President Phil McMillan of the Yale navy has been at New London several times during the past week putting the Yale quarters in order and sparing no efforts to make the three weeks spent there as pleasant as possible. As usual, Captain Brown's mansion on the heights will be the home of the Yale men. The crew will take its last row on the New Haven harbor Saturday morning, and will go to Gales Ferry by train in the afternoon. The launch will steam over Saturday afternoon, and the varsity shell will be shipped by freight Saturday night.

Captain Johnson has been remarkably successful in securing the aid of a number of fine graduate coachers for this season's drill at New London. They will be Captain Ives of the 1893 crew, Captain Hartwell of the 1892 crew, Captain Cook of the 1876 and other crews, Percy Bolton of the 1886 crew, Al Cowles of the 1890 crew and John Rogers of the 1887 crew. Of these Captain Ives has been the principal coach of the eight th's year, and will continue so at New London. "Bob" Cook will be at New London during the last two weeks of the training time. As usual he wood with the oars recorded instance where a cook was [illegible] rowing or cox.

Yale graduate coaches on any matter occurred.

The members of the crew as they will go to New London are: Stroke and captain, Fred A. Johnson, weight 166 pounds; No. 7, R. B. Treadway, 167 pounds; No. 6, E. R. Cross, 197; No. 5, A. W. Dater, 178; No. 4, Alexander P. Rogers, 167; No. 3, William M. Beard, 165; No. 2, Harry C. Holcomb, 164; bow, Richard Armstrong, 164; substitutes, J. H. Kbapp, 176; William M. Smith, 165; Eugene L. Messler, 180.

THE CONVENTION OVER.

The Session of the Northwest Baptists Ended Last Evening.

Most of the delegates to the Baptist convention left the city this morning on the steamers Premier and George E. Starr. A few will remain until Sunday and speak in the city churches of their denomination. Amongst the business transacted yesterday after the Times went to press was the adoption of resolutions on the following subjects:

Affirming former resolutions condemning the evils of the saloon and the liquor traffic; endorsing the Pacific Baptist as a denominational paper; calling attention to the impropriety of using undenominational helps in Sunday schools; thanking the press for excellent, impartial and full reports; recommending the organization of Young People's Unions in all the churches; regretting the deficit in benevolent receipts; thanking the Baptists of Victoria for their hospitality; pointing out the importance of having pure literature in homes and deploring that story papers are more read than the Bible; and condemning the use of tobacco.

Rev. C. F. Brownlee submitted a report on Sunday schools, and Rev. D. J. Pierce a report on educational matters. Both are excellent papers.

In the evening nearly all the discussion was on matters connected with the Young People's Union. Miss Lindbury read the secretary's report. A duet by Revs. P. H. McEwen and R. G. Cairns followed and Rev. Finwall spoke on the subject of how best to win young converts. Mrs. Clyde gave a solo and Rev. G. R. Cairns an address on the evening's subject. The choir rendered several excellent selections. A resolution was adopted commending Dr. Pierce's educational work at Seattle and that the Home Mission Society be asked to take such steps as would provide missionary employment for the students during vacations and at other times if needed, and that all the churches in the association be requested to forward voluntary contributions as an expression of good will for the college work during the present year.

The following were named as the new chairmen of committees: Study of religion, Rev. C. F. Brownlee; home missions, Rev. D. D. Proper, Seattle; foreign missions, Rev. J. H. Best, Westminster; Sunday schools, Rev. A. B. Banks, Everett; education, Rev. W. C. Weir, Vancouver; temperance, Rev. Mr. Finwall, Seattle; religious literature, Rev. D. J. Pierce, Seattle, programme, Rev. J. Cairns, Snohomish; new churches, Thos. Haughton, Victoria; and Young People's Union, Rev. T. Baldwin.

A vote of thanks to the moderator was passed and the convention was at an end.

become settled in their new quarters and notified customers where they can be found. Many wholesale houses to-day made regular shipments that have been unable to do so for several days. Goods are transferred on small boats to steamers and then either to rail points or directly to their destination. Floating docks have been built at the easiest point of exit; all shipments are made in boats. In some First street stores that are still open for business patrons are carried from the sidewalk through the lower floors to the stairways leading to the second floors.

One of the peculiar circumstances attending the flood is the total absence of crime or even of petty misdemeanor. Not a single robbery or attempt at housebreaking is reported from any portion of the city. No serious accident has occurred in the flooded districts or on the river since the overflow commenced.

The Union Pacific railway is without doubt the heaviest loser on the Pacific coast by the present floods. Superintendent Baxter says the track for a hundred miles east of Portland is almost demolished, and to rebuild and put it in first-class condition will cost nearly two million dollars. The loss to the company's docks, shops, warehouses, rolling stock and interruption to business is expected to reach nearly another million dollars. It will probably be three months before the stretch of road is fully rebuilt. Meantime every effort will be exerted to secure water service between Portland and Umatilla, from which point the road is in good condition eastward.
